

[illegible]

ansicht westen

This architectural line drawing shows the west facade of a large, multi-story building. The facade is characterized by a central entrance with a portico supported by columns. The building has multiple stories with numerous windows, some of which are grouped in bays. There are trees and a few figures in the foreground for scale.

ansicht süden

SIEMENS
MED
Museum

0 10 20

This architectural section drawing illustrates a multi-story building with a complex internal structure. The upper floors feature arched windows and a series of horizontal structural elements. The ground level includes a large entrance area labeled 'Rockkloster' and a smaller section labeled 'Hells Theater'. A person is shown standing near the entrance for scale. The drawing uses white lines on a dark background to represent the building's form and internal components.